Miscellaneous.

THE SPIRITUALIST'S FAITH.

What Spiritualists believe, in the confusion of statements made by their opponents, is nowhere more impres-sively stated than by Robert Dale Owen, in his "Debatable Land." He says that Spiritualists unite on the following leading principles: that this is a world governed by a God of love and mercy, in whom all things work together for good to those who reverently conform to his eternal laws; that there is, in strictness, no death, life continuing from the life which now is into that which is to come, even as it continues from one day to another—the sleep called death being but a brief transition slumber, from which, for the good, the awakening is immeasurably more glorious than in the dawn of earthly morning, the brightest that ever shone, so that in such cases, where the life is well spent, the change which men are wont to call death is God's last and best gift to his creatures here; that the earth phase of life is an essential preparation for the life which is to come; its appropriate duties and callings being neglected not without injury to human welfare and development, both in this world and the next, and its very enjoyments, if temperately accepted, being fit preludes to the happiness of a higher state.

The Spiritualist further believes that the phase of life which follows the death change is the supplement of that which precedes it, in the strictest sense, having the same variety of avocations, duties, enjoyments, corresponding in a measure to those of earth, but far more elevated, and its denizens having the same variety of character and of intelligence existing, too, as here, in a state of progress; and that, though wisdom and more dispassionate than we, they are nevertheless fallible, governed by the same laws of being, modified only by corporeal disenthralment, to which they were subjected here. Our state here determines our initial state there, the moving spirit of man deciding his condition on entering the next world.
We do not, either by faith or works, earn heaven, nor are we sentenced on any day of wrath to hell; but in the next world we simply gravitate to the position for which, by life on earth, we have fitted ourselves, and we occupy that position because we are fitted for it.

There is no instantaneous change of character when we pass from the present phase of life, but we are essentially the same as when the death-slumber came over us. The sufferings there, which are the natural sequents of evil-doing and evil-thinking here, are as various in character and degree as the enjoyments, but they are mental, not physical.

There is no escape from them, however, any more there than here, except by the door of repentance. There, as here, sorrow for sin committed and desire for an amended life are the indispensable conditions of advancement for a better state of being. In the next world, Love ranks higher than what we here call Wisdom, being in itself the highest wisdom. There the humble are exalted, the merciful obtain mercy, there is no respect of persons, deeds of benevolence far outweigh professions of faith, and simple goodness rises above intellectual power. A trustful, childlike spirit is the state of mind in which men are most receptive of beneficial spiritual impressions, and such a spirit is the best preparation for entrance into the next world. There have always existed inter-mundane laws, according to which men may occasionally obtain, under certain conditions, revelations from those who have passed to the next world before them. A certain proportion of human beings are more sensitive to spiritual perceptions and influences than their fellows, and it is usually in the presence, or through the medium, of one or more of these, that all-mundane intercourse occurs.

Spiritual phenomena, in their highest phases, furnish proof of the reality of another life, better and happier than this, and of which this is but the novitiate.

They bring immortality to light under a blaze of evidence which outshines as the sun the stars, all traditional or historical testimonies. For sunrise they give us conviction, and assured knowledge for wavering belief. The chief motives which induce spirits to communicate with men appear to be the following: a benevolent desire to convince us, past doubt or denial, that there is a world to come; now and then, the attraction of unpleasant memories, such as murder or suicide; sometimes (in the worldly-minded) the earth-binding influence of ambition and trouble; but far more frequently, the divine impulse of human affection, seeking the good of the loved ones it has left behind, and at times perhaps drawn down by their yearning cries. Under unfavorable or imperfect conditions, spirit communications, though honestly reported, often prove rapid and valueless; and this, chiefly happens when communications are too assiduously sought or persisted in, brief volunteered messages being the most trustworthy. As men here sometimes yield to the infatuation exerted by evil associates, so imprudence, inexperience and superstition, or the idiosyncrasy of the recipient, may occasionally result in arbitrary control by spirits of a low order. And in all this body of spiritualistic faith, there is no speculative divinity.—Banner of Light.

THE FARMER'S PROGRESS.

Our increase in all the chief articles of agricultural produce, as shown by the census report, is something enormous.

Wine has increased fourteen fold since 1850, and nearly doubled in the last decade, California being its chief producer.

Hops have increased seven fold in the same time, and more than doubled in the last ten years, New York growing two-thirds of the whole crop.

Barley has increased six fold.
Flax six fold, and flaxseed trebled.
Wheat trebled and oats doubled.
Irish potatoes has only increased one-third, and sweet decreased one-half.

Live stock have trebled in value, and now amounts to the handsome total of one thousand five hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars, or an average of nearly two hundred dollars for every family in the nation.

Animals slaughtered have nearly quadrupled in value, now amounting to four hundred millions of dollars annually.

Wool has increased from sixty to one hundred millions of pounds.
Cotton is half a million of bales above what it was in 1850, and three-fifths of its amount in 1860.

In only one instance is there a decrease of an important product, and that is in Indian corn, which falls short of the amount reported in 1860 by seventy-eight millions of bushels, or ten per cent of the whole.

In some of the lesser products, however, the downward is considerable.
Silk cocoons are only a third of their former amount, hemp a sixth, peas and beans and rice about a third each.
Buckwheat has decreased from seventeen millions of bushels to nine, and rye from twenty-one millions of bushels to sixteen.

The farms themselves, as may be expected from this great increase of products, have risen in value from three to nine thousand millions of dollars, while farming implements valued in 1850 at $151,587,638 now foot up $336,878-429, an annual increase of nine millions of dollars. Few minds can form even the remotest conception of what these numbers imply. The value of the farms in dollar bills would take an expert accountant capable of getting over one hundred a minute, five hundred years to count them, or if Communists and Internationalists had their way, and their value was divided equally among the whole people, it would afford $1,000 to each family, in addition to the million or two which would be sure to stick to the hands of the dividend.

The farms have considerably increased in number, but diminished in size, from 199 to 153 acres, being on an average fifty acres, each, less than in 1850. This decrease extends to every state in the Union save four: Arkansas, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New Mexico. Of the present number of farms (2,659,485) 6,875 are under three acres. Those with more than 10 acres and less than 500, have increased, those with less than ten acres decreased in number, one-sixth of the whole are over 100 acres and under 500, but the largest number (947,614) contains between 20 and 50 acres.

In France the extension of railways is said to have had the effect of shifting the base of the vine product to those districts best adapted to the purpose and most convenient to market. With us a process at least in part the reverse seems going on. Great exertions have been made from time to time, and much money expended, to get fax culture localized as an industry in New England and some of the Middle States, where the land for its product is of the best description, and facilities for market all that could be desired. But it could not be done, and it is now rapidly disappearing from those states that took most care to extend and keep it, and going west to where the land is not better, if so good, for the fax qualities and where the best part of the product—the fibre—has to be thrown to the manure heap, for the want of a market. There it is extending with surprising rapidity, apparently without special effort on the part of any to get it to do so.

Twenty years ago Kentucky supplied nearly a third of all our fax product; Virginia and New York about a million pounds each, making up together less than a half million of pounds. But now Ohio has nearly forty times its former product, while Kentucky has only one-fourth of its, and Virginia has gone down to a seventh. The chief fax producing states are: Ohio, 18,000,000 of pounds, or two-thirds of our whole product of 27,133,030 pounds, (the product in 1850 was only 7,208,676 pounds); New York 3,000,000, and Illinois 2,000,000; while New England with the exception of a little in Maine and Vermont may be said to have ceased to be fax producing, as have also Alabama, Delaware and Georgia.

New York has now as little to about a sixth of the fax cows of the nation and used to occupy the same position as to working oxen, but now Texas has twice the number it can show.
California has increased its sheep from 17,574 to 2,768,187, being an increase of 160 fold and the largest made by any state in any article of importance.

Louisiana still grows nearly all sugar, but the pigs have changed their headquarters from Tennessee and Kentucky to Illinois and Missouri. Pennsylvania, which used to be highest in the production of wheat, is now sixth on the list, Illinois with 30, Iowa with 20, Ohio and Indiana with 27 each, and Wisconsin with 25, all coming before its 19 million bushels.

A MID-AIR COMPROMISE.

Not many years ago, and not far from the city of Elmira, at a locality known as the female college, the circumstances were about to relate took place. It seems that the principal of the college overheard a plan among a number of his young lady students for drawing a young gentleman up to one of the third story rooms in a basket, at night, as no gentlemen suitors were allowed to visit their college lady loves and see them alone. Under strict rules of the institution. The principal acted accordingly, and at the appointed time was on the designated spot, and when the basket was let down, took the lover's place, gave the signal switch, and commenced going up toward heaven, drawn by a lady of angels.
When two thirds up, the angel expectant on looking down from the window, discovered to her terror and dismay that, instead of her lover, she had another man in the basket, and, nearly frightened out of her wits, made the facts known to her fair helpers in mischief, with the pertinent inquiry of "What shall we do? what shall we do?
Oh, girls, girls, what shall we do?"
Whereupon one of their number, noted for her coolness and presence of mind in t-ying emergencies said:

"Here, you hold on to this cord.
Now, do just as I tell you, and I'll take care of the man, no matter who he is or where he comes from."

Then, taking out her pocket knife and opening it, she leaned out of the window, and in a low voice said,— "Who are you there in the basket?"

No response.
"I say, who are you there, in that basket? Do you hear? I have a knife in my hand, and unless you answer this in ten seconds, I will cut the rope."

"Why, it's your principal; don't you know me? Don't for mercy sake, cut this rope."

"Well, you are in a pretty fix, professor, a pretty fix, indeed, and hanging between heaven and earth, between life and death. What do you think ought to be done with you? A primal of a female college, who thus endeavors, at night, to clandestinely reach the room of a lady student, exposed."

"Oh! I beg do not harm nor expose me; but let me down again carefully, and don't let the rope slip!"

"Professor," said the shrewd beauty, "on one condition only, will we comply with your request."

"Name it! name it!"

"You must solemnly promise that none of us who have been engaged in this little romance this evening, shall be disciplined for it, and that you will make no mention of it to any living soul while we are inmates of the college; with the understanding that we are to observe the solemn promise.

What say you.

"I promise—solemnly promise."

"Very well. Hold up your right hand! You do solemnly swear that you will faithfully keep and observe that promise, so help you God!"

"I do."

"Enough, girls! he has taken the oath! Now, lower away!"

The professor was soon carefully and safely landed on terra firma, greatly to his relief, and greatly to the joy, no doubt of the other party to the compromise, and he lived up to his oath. In after years, however, when time had relieved him from it, and the lover whose basket he monopolized on that eventful night, had, as the story goes, married the—who on that occasion was so far above him—the professor need to tell the adventure to his pupils, and laugh over it until he ran down his cheeks, as the most ludicrous escape he ever got into in all his life, and the only one he was let out of under an oath administered.—Schuyler Co Democrat.

TRAINING OF CARRIER PIGEONS.

The impo tance of utilizing carrier pigeons was well proved by the pigeon posts which enabled the besieged Parisians to communicate with the outer world. In earlier days, when most relied on the pigeon dispatch was necessarily of the briefest nature; but science and art have combined to render this means of communication more complete; and now, through the effective medium of the microscope and camera, thirty-five hundred dispatches of twenty words each can be carried by one of these aerial messengers.

The present state of the pigeon societies of Belgium, where the training of carrier pigeons forms a large business, is very interesting. The increase of railways has greatly extended the number of pigeon markets. Numerous societies, both amateur and professional, have been established in that country, and in some districts scarcely a village exists that does not possess one. Since the formation of the first society considerable improvements have been made in the means of conveying pigeons, and great care has been taken in the construction of the boxes and baskets in which they are carried.

The methods adopted by the Belgian fanciers for training the pigeons that are flown so extensively in Belgium are very severe. In the month of April, as soon as the young birds can fly, they are taken by short stages of two or three leagues at first in the direction of the place fixed for trial, and the distances rapidly increased as their observation and intelligence are developed. Thus they become eventually acquainted with all the landmarks of the journey.

Special trains run on Saturdays exclusively for the transportation of the pigeons. The trains are ordinarily composed of twenty luggage wagons, each wagon containing fifty baskets, and each basket containing forty or fifty pigeons. Thus at the least estimation we have the number of forty thousand pigeons on a single train.

It is stated that the Belgian societies possess nearly a million of these interesting birds.

At the different stations it is curious to witness the openings of the baskets: the pigeons on being released wheel and turn until they have rightly adjusted their course, then in a compact body they rise gradually higher, and are soon lost to view. The first who reach their homes are the ones selected to take long journeys.

The speed of the carrier pigeon is estimated to be about 80 miles an hour. For example, a good pigeon will accomplish a journey from Lyons to Brussels in four hours or four hours and a half.

One of the best towns for carrier pigeons is Antwerp, and for many years past annual races of seventy or eighty birds have been flown from there to Paris. The meeting too, in London last year showed some good results. Although the pigeons were imperfectly trained a large number of them compared very favorably with their rivals across the channel. Among the last, several made a journey to Rome.

WENDELL PHILLIPS ON GRANT AND GREELEY.

Mr. Wendell Phillips has written a letter to the colored citizens of Boston, counseling them to vote for Grant in the course of which he says:

"My judgment is the exact opposite of Mr. Sumner's. I think every loyal man, and especially every colored man, should vote for General Grant, and that the nation and your race are safe only in the hands of the old, regular republican party.

I know the defects of Gen. Grant's Administration as well as any man. I think distrustful as I was of him, I am able to see the good service he has unexpectedly rendered the nation. But no matter for these defects. At the most they are not fatal; and events have lifted President Grant into being to-day the symbol and representative of loyalty. The conspiracy between southern secessionists and northern copperheads, of which, very naturally, Mr. Greeley is the tool, and, unfortunately, Mr. Sumner is the endorser and, I think, the dupe, leaves room for but two parties—those who are for the nation and those who are against it. I bated no jot of my brotherly regard and sincere esteem for Mr. Sumner in thus finding himself deceived. The entire faith I have in his honesty of purpose obliges me to think him duped. The only wonder is how this is possible when the south is so insolent and shameless in proclaiming her intentions. The south has long seen her mistake and often confessed it.

The Tribune itself makes this statement as late as June 1871. That mistake was to contend for her ideas with muskets and outside the union—leaving us the government and taking herself the part of a rebel. She has often announced, in the last instance by the lips of Jeff Davis—that the cause was not lost, and must be won by getting possession of the government and leaving us in the opposition.
Such is the present plot. That Mr.
Greeley sees it would never prevent his aiding it. That Mr. Sumner does not see it is to me a matter of profound astonishment. At such a moment the regular republican party becomes again the accepted and only instrument of resistance, and Grant represents honesty as Lincoln did in 1864.

If General Grant is set aside, who is offered us in his place? Horace Greeley. I need not tell you, my friends, what Horace Greeley is. We abolitionists knew him only too well in the weary years of our struggle. He had enough of clear moral vision to see the justice of our cause. But he never had courage enough to confess his faith. If events had given him the courage he never would have had the principle to risk anything for an idea.
A trimmer by nature and purpose, he has abused even an American politician's privilege of trading principles for success. But for lack of ability he would have been the

There is something a little mysterious about some of the politicians of Youngstown. Mr. Brown, the liberal candidate for congress, has long been making saintly professions in favor of temperance, and if not a leader in that reform is at least a prominent man. But the singular part in this respect is that he is assured by gentlemen both for and against him, that of the hundred or so groggers at Youngstown—and many of them are as hard customers as can be found in that business—every man of them is for Brown. It is said to be the case even here—every liquor peddler in Massillon is for Brown, and whether it is so elsewhere we have not heard, though Bro. Gillespie, of the Alliance Local, says it is the same there. For a leading temperance man to be so generally supported by this class of men is a curious freak in politics, so many of whose ways are dark and tricks are vain. It may be all right, but the mystery will bear explanation. Mr. Woodworth, we are assured, is one of the ablest temperance advocates in this part of the country, and constantly upholds the principles of sobriety in speech and practice, but like a large majority of people, he is a poor man. Is it the money of Mr. Brown that the groggers so unanimously admire, who is a man of very limited educational and intellectual abilities, and the poverty of Mr. Woodworth that they despise?

A gentleman just from San Francisco, California, states that on the route, as is often the case, somebody had the curiosity to count votes, and on the different trains the following result is reported. For Greeley 568, Grant 1146—a little more than two to one for the latter. On the train from Orrville Saturday morning the count was Greeley 17, Grant 37, neutral 2. These are straws among a great many others which show the direction of the wind very significantly. It looks as if the Greeley stock is running down, for if the election had taken place a week or two after the nominations Greeley would have received many more votes than he will on the 5th proximo. Even the Tribune is becoming aware of this, and the N. Y. Herald, a shrewd observer in political matters, is ready to say that Grant will be re-elected.

Like thousands of other patriotic men Mr. Woodworth was in the army several years, and the hardships incident to the life of a soldier were such that his constitution could not well endure, so since his return his health has been so impaired that much of the time he is disabled from attending to the duties of his profession—that of a lawyer. For this reason he has not yet been in a condition to go and visit the people of the district, thousands of whom would like to see him, and hear him discuss the questions of the day. For this reason, too, he is a poor man, but that should be no disgrace to working men. We observe that some of his political opponents sneer at Mr. Woodworth as the dysentery candidate. That is rather small business to make fun of a man because he is sick.

St. Paul's conversion on his way to Damascus has long been preached up as one of the marvels of other days. He was a furious persecutor of the saints, but suddenly became a meek and earnest follower of Christ. But great as was this achievement of change of heart it is, as a miracle, a small affair compared with the conversion, not of one Paul only, nor yet of 3,000, as in the case of Peter on the day of pentecost, but of hundreds of thousands of red handed rebels, who fought, slew men, and aimed for four years to destroy the government. By the preaching of St. Greeley they have been induced to clasp hands with him across the bloody chasm, and profess conversion to the principles of true republicanism and equal rights to all. Such a doctrine there are plenty of idiots, disbelievers—they want to see years of work meet for repentance before they express confiding faith in this modern miracle.

The northern Ohio Methodist conference, in session at Mansfield, took a vote with this result: Grant 118, Greeley 2. On the train going to the O'Fallon fight, the vote was—Greeley 81, Grant 4, Jeff Davis 12. A good text, this, for a sermon.

The British museum has one million books in its library, and more of these are American than can be found in any library in the United States.

Charles Francis Adams, at present minister from this country to England, and the man whom the best men at the Cincinnati convention wanted to nominate for president, has, so the papers state, come out in favor of Grant, and his son, J. Q. Adams, who has been twice run by the democrats for governor of Massachusetts, has also come out on the same side.

Mr. Sumner's health is said to be very poor—so impaired that his physicians advise him to remain as quiet as possible. Even if he has the disposition this will prevent him from taking an active part in the canvass for president. That brutal attack of Brooks has something to do with this want of health.

A state election was held in West Virginia a few days since. The result was a close one, but the independent candidate, Jacobs, was re-elected, beating his opponent, a Bourbon. The Greeleycrats can't crow, as their side was beaten—that is, if we can understand this mystery. An important question was up, which was the adoption of a new constitution, one of its provisions being against permitting colored children in common schools, and another against negroes holding office. That may be a Greeley triumph—it is not a republican victory.

Two very recent disasters at sea in cases of the ships Metis and Bienville resulted in the loss of many lives. The first accident was in consequence of a collision by which some fifty persons lost their lives—107 were saved. The Bienville was destroyed by fire, by which many lives were sacrificed. Renewed complaints are made of recent Indian troubles. Late news from N. Carolina states that the murderous k-k-k are killing more people. Since bro. Spencer, of the Prohibition Era has been nominated for congress in the 20th district, he has issued a challenge to Mr. Parsons, the republican nominee, and Mr. Chamberlain, the Greeleycrat candidate, both for the same office, to publicly discuss the temperance question. It is not probable that either of the challenged parties will accept, as there is great danger that they may get beaten in a fair and square argument on the broad issue. For bro. S. is posted on this question, and very few will care to come in contact with him.

The Valley Road.—The surveyors of the various routes for the proposed new Valley road, are busily engaged in completing their work. We clip the following item in reference to the subject from the Akron Beacon: "The surveyors are within a short distance of Akron, and will reach the city in a few days. Meanwhile a party to survey the route from Canton northward is to be sent out at once. The surveys for all the routes are being made very thoroughly, so that whenever either of them is adopted there will be no delay in letting the contracts and going to work. But the close survey does not indicate that the valley or any other particular route has been adopted. No decision on that point has been made, and what it will be finally depends on not only the engineer's report, but the liberality of the people in giving the right of way and subscribing for the stock. The company have no money to spend in paying big prices for small bits of lands in order to benefit the rest of a man's farm ten fold.

The New York evening Post in an exhaustive article on the real issue of the presidential contest, shows that it is nothing but this, "Shall the democratic party be restored to power?" The Post sees and laments that the movement for reform begun by the liberals was fatally perverted by the result of the Cincinnati convention, and that since the democrats adopted Mr. Greeley as their representative nothing remains but the old struggle for supremacy between the old pro slavery and still reactionary democracy, and the loyal and progressive republican party. We quote from the Post as an authority on this subject, and give the summary with which it concludes its review of the situation as follows:

"For twelve years the democratic party had struggled without success and almost without hope. Now the hour had come when it was to turn its face to the wall and give up the ghost, unless it could be revived by this sort of hypodermic injection of blood from another living subject. As the war of 1812-14 killed the federal party, tho it did not finally cease to exist till eight or ten years later, so the war of 1861-5 had destroyed the modern democratic party, though it had waited till this year before its last grasp upon life was to relax forever. The one and only question, then, of this election is, Shall the progress of decay and death in the democratic party be arrested by the election of Greeley? It is not a question of shaking hands over the bloody chasm, of peace, of forgiveness, of tranquility and of prosperity at the south, but simply and solely this: Shall the democratic party that opposed the war that would have given the secessionists all they asked for, and prostrated the north at their feet; that opposed the abolition of slavery; that opposed every one of the amendments to the constitution; that opposed the payment of the national debt in gold and has been almost ready for repudiating it altogether; that has opposed in short, the whole policy and progress of the government and the country which has brought us from 1861 to 1874—shall that party return to power? "This election has no other meaning. All those questions of reform which were talked about and thought about for the first four months of this year are put aside; the attempt to raise an issue on them was lamentably and hopelessly postponed by the Cincinnati convention, and the one issue of the last dozen years again looms up in its old dimensions and demands to be once more settled, let us hope this time finally."

CLERICAL STATISTICS.—This morning, says a Saratoga correspondent, Dr. Corey and another good old Baptist clergyman were sitting on the balcony looking at the swell turnouts. The Doctor, who has an eye for horseflesh, was watching a couple of dashing tandem teams, while his brother minister was moralizing over the sins of this gay world.

Just as the two spans danced by with light and airy buxians, followed by the swiftest dog-cart tandem in Saratoga, the reverend brother remarked religiously, as he drew a long sigh: "Brother Corey, alas! we live in a very fast age."

"Yes, brother," replied Dr. Corey, taking off his eye glasses, "but I'll bet an X that I've got a span of fast mares in New York that can dust anything that you see here except the Commodore's!"

Brother Jones only dropped his head upon his hands and drew a sigh which could only come from a crushed and broken heart.

The Great Eastern has once more been chartered to lay a fourth transatlantic cable, and is now lying at Sheerness waiting its completion. The contract for the cable has been completed and duly signed. The cable is to be manufactured and laid under the auspices of the Telegraph Construction Company, of England. A curious episode occurred at the Hamilton camp meeting in Massachusetts on Monday. A babe about six months old was found in the railway cars. It was taken to the pulpit and exhibited to the congregation; and a childless charitable couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ashworth, agreed to adopt the little stray. It was christened 'Hamilton Ashbury Ashworth,' and seemed to have got into a good thing, when, unfortunately or otherwise, the mother of the babe made her appearance, claimed it, and carried it off. It turned out that the baby had been abandoned not by its mother, but by a cruel heartless, and most extraordinary grandmother.

Hon. Thomas H. Hartwell, a prominent citizen of Michigan, who has always been a democrat, and has held numerous important positions at the hands of the party, has just returned from a long tour in the southern states, undertaken for the restoration of his impaired health. No one can charge him with any dishonorable motive in reaching a conclusion against his natural predilections; and subversive of his personal political record. His judgment is to be taken without deduction, as that of an able, intelligent, dispassionate and honest man. Here it is: "I have traveled all over the south, and you have no idea, here in the north, of the bad condition of things there. The southern ex-rebel elements are all ripe for another revolution, or any other scheme by which they can revenge upon the north and the government. They are bitter and dangerous since the nomination of Greeley. They curse the north, curse the blacks, and curse the government with a bitterness you have no idea of, and threaten vengeance, when they regain power, which they expect to do through Greeley's election. I tell you those men are not fit to be given power in their states and the nation, and you will see trouble if they get it. If I had a thousand votes I would give every one to Grant."

It is gratifying from time to time to note the accuracy of the signal service weather reports, and the confidence the public is beginning to place in them. If the friends of Grant and Greeley could only forecast the signs of the political atmosphere as well as "Old Probabilities" and his assistants do those of the natural one, there would be a decided flutter among the followers of one or the other. Of course the weather bureau is sometimes mistaken, but one-half of the political wisecracks and weather cocks are bound to be still more unfortunate in their prophecies.

Quite an important decision has recently been rendered by the supreme court of Iowa, in which it was held that "the general assembly cannot legally submit to the people whether an act shall become a law or not, the people having no power in their primary or individual capacity to make laws. They must do this by their representatives." According to this decision, laws which only take effect after their ratification by a vote of the people are impermissible.

A new secret organization has been started in California, the members of which are oath-bound. There is some curiosity to know whether good Christians who attack Old Fellowship and Masonry, will anathematize this. It consists of the miners who are employed to work the new diamond claims of Arizona, and who are sworn to secrecy by their employers. A delegation of twenty from this society start for their future labors on Monday next.

The Marquette Journal regrets that the miners of that section have not been careful to preserve the reputation of Lake Superior ore by confining their shipments to the best qualities. There has been such a clamor for ore and the temptation has been so great, in view of the inability of miners to fill all orders upon them with the best grades, that they have, in many instances, this season, shipped poor qualities of ore to their customers.

The first machine is now building by the Ames Co. of Chicopee.

VALUABLE HINTS. A regular habit of body is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the fluid of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants. Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants—such as an unpleasant breath, a swollen face, a burning tongue, a headache, a morose and irritable temper, and general debility. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant or a tonic, or an antispasmodic, or a nerve, or a blood purifier, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, and thereby stimulates the liver, braces the nerves and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristic virtues that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is harmless in its effects, and hence it is the only safe remedy for the weaker sex as well as the stronger. Hostetter's stomach bitters are sold in bottles of 50, and the trade mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

(This Cut Illustrates the manner of Using DR. PIERCE'S Fountain Nasal Injector, or DOUCHE. This instrument is especially designed for the perfect application of the SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY. It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The weakness of the nostrils, and the heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. One obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. In using this instrument the fluid is carried by the force of the air, forcing, or pumping being required, up the nostril in a full gently flowing stream to the highest portion of the nasal passages, and thus thoroughly cleanses all the tubes and chambers connected therewith, and flows out of the opposite nostril. Its use is pleasant and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. The Catarrh Remedy is sold at 50 cents. Douche at 50 cents. By Frequent use either will be mailed by post on receipt of 50 cents. Symptoms of Catarrh. Frequent headache, discharge falling from the nose, sometimes profuse, watery, or mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. It often induces dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, stopping up or obstruction of nasal passages, ringing in the ears, hoarseness, loss of voice, or cough, throat, ulcerations, sores on the palate, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, general depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, itching enough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, and accompanied with the constitutional treatment which is recommended in the pamphlet that wraps each bottle of the Catarrh Remedy, will cure Catarrh of the nose, throat, and lungs, in all its forms, in a few days, and the proprietor offers, in good faith, $500 reward for a case he cannot cure. The Catarrh Remedy is sold at 50 cents. Douche at 50 cents. By Frequent use either will be mailed by post on receipt of 50 cents. R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Sole Proprietor, BUFFALO, N. Y.

A little girl of eight or ten summers being asked what dust was, replied that it was mud with the juice squeezed out.

When an impecunious person has exhausted his resources at his uncle's, he generally resorts to out-of-the-way haunts.

An old farmer said of his clergyman, whose sermons lacked point, "Ah, yes, he's a good man, but he will rake with the teeth upward."

Seventeen hundred gallons of whiskey were destroyed by lightning in an Indiana town the other day, but it was a pretty even tussle between the two.

Mrs. Shoddy pucker up her mouth genteelly, and told a gentleman friend that one of her lovely daughters was a "bluenet" and the other a "bronze."

Every person, without regard to race, sex or condition, found drunk on the streets of the cities and towns of Russia is compelled to work at sweeping off the streets during the whole of the next day. Here is a good hint for our town council.

The landlord of a hotel said to a boarder: "Look o' hear! I want you to pay your bill, and you must! I have asked you often enough for it, and I tell you now that you don't leave the house until you have paid it!" "Good!" said the lodger; "I'll stay with you as long as you live!"

An old woman, who died the other day at Lowell, was giving orders for her funeral, and among other things said she wanted to be laid out in her black silk gown, and they must not take out the back breadth as they did when Sally Smith was laid out. "For," said the old lady, but seriously, "what a sinner Sally will cut at the resurrection without any back breadth in her gown!"

Sojourner Truth, now near a century old, whose earlier years were spent in slavery, and whose riper years have been devoted to the elevation of her people, declares that the safety of her race lies in the success of the republican party—that Greeley and Sumner have turned their backs upon the colored people, and become the allies of the enemies of the African race. The old lady fully recognizes the importance to the colored people of the present campaign, which may result in the triumph of those who would seek to wipe out all the benefits which have been secured to the colored people by the republican party.

California has made a new industrial discovery. The Golden State manages to do something in this line on an average of once a month. Her latest achievement is in the manufacture of sugar from melons; the latter fruit is superabundant, and the sugar produced of a very fine quality, so the new business cannot fail to become profitable if followed up with zeal and prudence, as it doubtless will be, until the restless Californians lit upon some other novel notion. Within two years California has raised silk worms, produced raw silk, manufactured silk, established coffee plantations, grown cotton, planted tea, set out orange groves, made millions of gallons of wine, and exported hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat. With all these things produced within her own borders, our wealthy sister of the Pacific slope has no need to import anything, either from the Old World or the Atlantic seaboard.

The Liver is more frequently the seat of disease than is generally supposed, for upon its regular action depends, in a great measure, the powers of the stomach, bowels, brain and the whole nervous system. Regulate that important organ by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, and you prevent most of the diseases that flesh is heir to.

Suicide Committed, as the result of an inactive state of the liver and stomach, producing headache, obtuse intellect, dullness, despondency, dementia, and finally insanity, is no uncommon occurrence. All these disagreeable symptoms and bad feelings are most certainly dispelled by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It revitalizes and builds up the whole system. A little book on chronic diseases sent free. Address R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all first class druggists.

The People's Stamp of Value.—The government endorsement, which legalizes the sale of Plantation Bitters, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous vegetable tonic. It bears in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp of public approbation. This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a tonic, corrective and alternative, is of much earlier date than the government endorsement; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the grand specific of the age long before congress thought of taxing proprietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail the properties of wonderful vegetable tonic. The best reference that can be offered to those who desire the full particulars of its virtues, is the general public. Ask those who have tried it as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, intermittent fevers, nervous debility, rheumatism, sea sickness, low spirits, or loss of vital power, what plantation bitters has done for them, and begoverned by the response they make to your inquiries.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN BLOOD PURIFIER. It is not a physic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few doses, but which from continued use brings piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a detestable liquor, which, under the popular name of bitters is so extensively palmed off on the public as sovereign remedies, but is a most powerful tonic and alternative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful remedial results.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba retains all the medicinal virtues peculiar to the plant and must be taken as a permanent curative agent.

Is there want of action in your liver and spleen? Unless relieved at once, the liver becomes torpid by its detritus secretions, producing scrofulous or skin diseases, fclous, blotches, pustules, cancer, &c. Take Jurubeba to cleanse, purify and restore the vitiated blood to healthy action.

Have you weakness of the intestines? You are in danger of chronic diarrhoea or the dreadful inflammation of the bowels.

Take it to allay irritation and ward off tendency to inflammation. Have you weakness of the Uterine or urinary organs? You must procure instant relief for you are liable to suffering worse than death.

Take it to strengthen organic weakness or life becomes a burden. Finally it should be frequently taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases. John Q. Kellogg, Platt St. N. Y. Send for circular.
